

ECOLOGY & POWER

Critical perspectives on the discourse on sustainability and resilience

Conference hosted by the Human Ecology Division, Lund University,
September 17-19, 2008

Preliminary programme

[Please note: All presentation slots include 15 minutes discussion]

Wednesday, September 17: Theoretical and historical background

(Venue: Pangea, Room 229, Sölvegatan 12)

09:00-10:00 Registration

10:00-10:15 Alf Hornborg (Lund University): Welcome and introduction

10:15-11:15 Keynote: John Bellamy Foster (University of Oregon): Marx and the Planet

11:15-12:00 Brett Clark (N. Carolina State University) & Richard York (University of Oregon): The Social Metabolic Order of Capital: Rifts, Shifts, and Crises

12:00-13:30 Lunch break

13:30-14:15 Jason W. Moore (Lund University): Environmental Crises and the Myth of European Expansion: Capital, Empire, and Nature in the Making of the Global North Atlantic, 1450-1800

14:15-15:00 Thomas Håkansson (Lund University): Agricultural Intensification and Political Complexity: A Global Comparison

15:00-15:15 Coffee break

15:15-16:00 Ruth Thomas-Pellicer (University of Surrey): The International Climate Change Regime and the Commodification of the Conditions of Re/Production

16:00-16:45 Eva Lövbrand & Johannes Stripple (Lund University): Earth System Governmentality: Critical Notes on Science in the Anthropocene

16:45-17:15 General discussion

Thursday, September 18: Critical interventions in political ecology

(Venue: Palaestra, Lower level, Paradisgatan 4)

09:00-10:00 Keynote: Nancy Peluso (University of California): The Ecological Powers of Politics

10:00-10:45 Michael Sheridan (Middlebury College): Reconceptualizing Power for Political Ecology: A Social Scale Perspective

10:45-11:00 Coffee break

11:00-11:45 Pernille Gooch (Lund University): Scientific vs. Local Knowledge: Power and Sustainability in the Central Indian Himalayas

11:45-12:30 Beppe G. Karlsson (Uppsala University): Nuclear Lives: Uranium Mining in India

12:30-14:00 Lunch break

14:00-14:45 Richard York (University of Oregon) & Brett Clark (N. Carolina State University): Science, Technology, and Environmental Sustainability: A Critical Perspective
14:45-15:30 Jeffrey Kentor (University of Utah): Ecological Degradation and Violence: A Cross-National Analysis

15:30-15:45 Coffee break

15:45-16:30 Henrik Ernstson (Stockholm University): Towards a Framework that Incorporates Ecological Resilience and Social Justice in Urban Landscapes
16:30-17:00 General discussion

Friday, September 19: Confrontations with hegemonic ideologies (Venue: Palaestra, Upper level, Paradisgatan 4)

09:00-10:00 Keynote: Patricia Howard (University of Kent): Are Capitalism and Capitalist Democracy Resilient? What the Beef Industry Can Tell Us About Understanding and Predicting the Future

10:00-10:45 Ulf Jonsson (Stockholm University): The New Geopolitics of Food: Changing Patterns or the Same Old Story?

10:45-11:00 Coffee break

11:00-11:45 Andrew K. Jorgenson & Brett Clark (N. Carolina State University): The Division of Nations and Nature: The Economy, Military, and Ecologically Unequal Exchange Relationships in Comparative Perspective

11:45-12:30 Wilhem Östberg (Stockholm University): When Safflower Came to Kondo: Liberalisation vs. Participation in Tanzania

12:30-14:00 Lunch break

14:00-14:45 Lasse Lindström (Stockholm University): Resilience – In Defense of Capitalism?

14:45-15:30 Cristián Alarcón Ferrari (Uppsala University): Resources and Power, Societal Needs and Social Production: Discourses of Sustainable Development under Capitalism

15:30-15:45 Coffee break

15:45-16:30 Marcus Carson (Stockholm University): Down But Not Out: The Repositioning of Climate Change Skepticism – Lessons From the Struggle to Ban Asbestos

16:30-17:00 General discussion and conclusion